

What are Utah's Laws Regarding Alcohol, Tobacco, & Other Drugs?

Let's Talk About DUIs:

It is illegal to drive or be in physical control of a vehicle or motorboat, even when parked, while under the influence of alcohol, any drug, or the combined influence of alcohol and any drug if impaired.

Police officers can stop any driver they have reasonable cause to believe is under the influence of alcohol or another drug. Operating a vehicle in Utah means consenting to a blood alcohol content (BAC) test. If a blood alcohol level is .08 or greater, or if the officer determines impairment, the driver's license will be confiscated and a Driving Under the Influence (DUI) charge will be issued. If the BAC test is refused, the driver's license will be revoked for one year, and a $50-200 reinstatement fee will be assessed. If convicted, an alcohol-restricted driver license will be issued.

For a 1st DUI conviction in which no one is injured, the following penalties are imposed:

- 60 days to 6 months imprisonment and/or up to $1,000. Class B misdemeanor.
- A mandatory sentence of 48 to 240 hours in jail in the drunk tank or 24 to 50 hours of community service.
- Mandatory assessment and participation in educational programs at a licensed alcohol rehabilitation facility.
- Suspension of driver's license for 90 days or more.
- Payment of $100 to the victim restitution fund.

If you receive a DUI with anyone under 16 years of age in the vehicle or if the driver is 21 years of age or older and driving with anyone under age 18, charges raise to a Class A misdemeanor and the possible driver license revocation period is extended to two years. An Alcohol Restricted Driver license will be issued for 5 to 10 years.

If a DUI results in injury, penalties of up to one year imprisonment and a fine up to $2,500, separate from any lawsuit filed by the injured party, will be imposed. If death occurs, automobile homicide—a third degree felony—is charged against the driver. It carries a maximum penalty of up to 6 years in the state prison and a fine of up to $5,000. License is automatically revoked for one year.

A DUI with blood alcohol content (BAC) of .16 or higher, prior DUI conviction within last six years, and/or DUI involving a drug other than alcohol requires court-ordered, supervised, offender-paid probation.

Expect a first DUI conviction to cost at least $10,000!

Second and third DUI convictions, within six years of the first:

Results in penalties of increased severity, further alcohol and drug treatment, and driver's license suspension for a longer period.

It is illegal to operate or control a vehicle with any measurable amount of alcohol in the body for an Alcohol Restricted Driver

Anyone convicted of DUI, other alcohol and/ or drug related driving incidents, or refusal to submit to a BAC test will be issued an Alcohol Restricted Driver license for 5 to 10 years. Class B misdemeanor.

Footnotes:

* All penalties enhance one degree if incident occurs within 1000 feet of a school, church, stadium, theatre, sports complex, etc.

 Unless it is completely inaccessible to driver and passengers.

 Once an offender has been convicted of a felony DUI offense, any subsequent DUI offense would also be a felony; and the window for counting prior DUI offenses is 10 years.
